Michigan House Tax Credit...What’s Next?

The excitement surrounding the reinstatement of the Michigan Historic Tax Credit, made into law by House Bill 6416 under the leadership of State Senator Jim Ananich, continued into the New Year. The new legislation will help ring in the New Year with optimism...and many questions.

The return of this critical tax incentive was only possible because of the continued support by the Michigan Legislature and the Governor's office. The House Tax Credit, which expired in 2019, has been made effective as of January 1, 2021, and tax credits will be available for projects commencing on or after that date.
